What You Need to Know to Live on Campus

Message from the Director

Welcome to residential life at Eastern Connecticut State University. Your decision to live on campus will afford you with many opportunities to meet new people, make lifelong friends, learn in a vibrant community, and expand your knowledge of the world.

As Connecticut's public liberal arts university, we do everything we can to strengthen the connection between living and learning. The Housing and Residential Life program is an integral partner in the University's effort to provide a positive educational experience that fosters the retention and graduation of students. Studies show that students who live on campus are more likely to get involved and learn valuable educational, social and leadership skills. Statistics also show that students who live on-campus obtain higher grade point average than their off-campus peers and are more likely to graduate from college than other students.

The residential collegiate experience is one of intellectual, social, cultural, and emotional development. Your participation in our residential program provides an unlimited opportunity for you to learn, grow, and share. The staff is committed to making your on-campus living experience memorable and filled with valuable learning opportunities.

Please let us know if there is anything we can do to make your on-campus experience better.

Angela Bazin, Director

Beginning September 13, it will be your responsibility to visit the hall office of the building you wish to move to and talk with the professional staff member and ask to be placed on a waiting list. There will not be a waiting list started until September 13. Please realize that roommate/room changes are not guaranteed and if a change is granted, it is on a space-available basis.
